ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Enfield:

The Superintendent of Schools presents his annual report as a part of the report of the School Board to the School District. It is one of a series of such reports, the first of the present writer.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this report has been to provide an historic record of the financial and budget requirements for the year, of the enrollment of pupils, and certain other data which seems to have permanent value. Another aim is to place before the District some of the possible suggestions as to improvements and progress in the educational program for Enfield.

SURVEY

Your Superintendent has been acquainted with the working of the schools for something less than a year. In that time it has been possible only to gain an acquaintance with the schools and their pupils. Perhaps one of the most outstanding features of the work which has been done at Enfield is the splendid effort at consolidations. This always results in increasing costs for the item of transportation but in the end results in actual reductions in funds necessary to operate the schools.

The purely educational work of the year has been carried along lines not greatly different from those which were planned previous to my acquaintance with the schools. In general it may be said that the work of teachers is good, that the pupils are gaining worthwhile attitudes and habits as well as adequate knowledge of subject matter to enable them to take their places as citizens. It has not been my purpose to bring about startling changes or to inaugurate plans which were incompatible with the financial capacity of the District. The limited knowledge of the local school situation has made it seem undesirable to include in this report any extended statistical material.

TEACHER'S MEETING

The teachers of this District united with the others in the Union in attending three meetings of all teachers. At these meetings important educational topics were discussed including the question of marking or ranking pupils.

One direct result of these meetings has been the planning and putting into operation of a new type of report card. These cards have now, no doubt, become familiar to all parents. If they are serving their purpose they will give the parent a more adequate idea of the successes and shortcomings of the pupils who are in attendance upon the schools.

Another result was the forming of a special committee to study into the question of lists of books suitable for out of school reading by the pupils at the different grade levels.

Regular teachers' meetings have been held of the High School teachers and the Grade School teachers. At these meetings specific problems in the carrying on of the work of the Enfield schools were discussed and plans made for the development of the idea that the pupils themselves should become somewhat more active in the learning process, and that the teacher should serve as guides and aids to the pupils in their work so that the learning situation could be improved, for, after all, it is the pupils, not the teacher, who need to do the learning, and the pupils cannot be forced to learn unless the learning situation is so set up as to make learning desirable from the pupil's standpoint.

TEACHERS

All of the teachers of Enfield have had training and experience which place them among the better group of teachers. It is true that they, in common with others, have accepted the results of the depression, but in spite of that they have carried on with determination and good faith to give their best to the boys and girls in their care. It would be unfortunate so far as the children are concerned should it become necessary to lose many of these teachers because of the financial inability of the community to retain them in its service.

FINANCIAL

The plan for the financial reports for the year has been changed somewhat from that of previous years. This has been done so that it would be possible for the citizens to understand more readily the business transactions of the District. No attempt has been made to try to reconcile the current expenditures and the current budget. This has seemed to be somewhat inadequate and, at best, a portion of this reconciliation is in the nature of estimates which almost never coincide with the exact facts. After this year, by the plan adopted, it will be possible to compare expenditures and receipts from year to year, and to know just how well the School Board has succeeded in meeting its obligations with the appropriation alloted.

BUDGET

The budget which has been prepared calls for an appropriation which is slightly larger than that of last year. This is due to the fact that with the conditions of the depression subsiding and with the increasing costs of school materials and living costs it will be necessary to have a somewhat larger budget in order to maintain even the present standard of the schools. It is due also to the fact that there is no large carry over of a reserved fund or surplus, making possible reductions such as has been the case for the last few years.

REPAIRS

In general the school buildings of Enfield are in reasonable good repair. At some time in the near future it will be necessary to re-decorate and repair some of the walls of the Village School. This is not surprising when it is remembered that very little, if any, has been paid for its up-keep since it was built. It may be wise economy to think about the installation of a blower in connection with the heating plant at that school. It has been demonstrated that such a practice will reduce very materially the cost of fuel over a period of years. Some school systems have saved nearly 50% of their appropriation for fuel by this means.

HIGH SCHOOL

Enfield is to be commended for having carried on for so many years a High School of good standing from an educational standpoint. Those pupils who have left this school and attended higher institutions of learning have adjusted themselves in the main to the newer institutions and are doing this work creditably and without loss of time.

Another evidence has been that the seniors who have taken State tests for several years past have stood in the upper half of the groups of pupils taking those tests throughout the State.

It would be interesting and quite worthwhile to undertake an investigation and study of what happens to all of the pupils entering or graduating from the Enfield High School. It is possible that it would be found less than 10% proceed.

Grand Total					285

The above is a table of the current enrollment in the schools of Enfield. The totals vary but slightly from those of last year. A study of these tables over a period of years would, no doubt, indicate a somewhat decreasing number of pupils. As will be seen from this chart, but two schools other than the Village school are now in operation, and these two schools have an enrollment of twenty-nine pupils to higher institutions for further educational training. In other words it might be questioned as to whether or not just the type of work which has been planned for this High School is that which meets the needs of the majority of the pupils in attendance. This situation is one which will need further study and consideration before plans are made for any changes in the program offered.

ADULT EDUCATION

The Federal Government, in its efforts to relieve the distress during this period of difficulty, allotted a a certain sum of money to the United States Bureau of Education for purposes of giving educational opportunity to those who were past the regular school age. A certain amount of this fund was allotted for the use of New Hampshire. A series of meetings were held in the High School asking citizens who might be interested in such work to attend. A considerable group of citizens responded and classes were organized in November to be carried on in the evening with the Federal Government paying the expenses of instruction, and a certain per cent for material used by the students.

These classes have been carried on with varying success since that time.

More recently the State Department advised the opening of the school for the benefit of the young men in the C. C. C. camp at Danbury. This has been done and the classes in mathematics, drawing, stenography and typing and English are being continued with fair attendance. As is often the case the attendance upon these classes is at first large but decreases as outside activities seem to increase and offer greater allure than does the idea of gaining more adequate knowledge of the content of subjects connected with education. These classes are, of course, to be discontinued at such time as the government withdraws its approval and appropriation. They are closely supervised and a constant check is kept upon attendance and progress of the work.

COOPERATION

This report would be incomplete without a statement of appreciation from your Superintendent for the courtesy which has been extended to him as a man and as an official of the schools by the School Board, teachers, pupils, and citizens of Enfield. It is only by united and cooperative effort on the part of all persons involved that we can expect to improve the work in the public schools. Continued cooperation and interest is imperative if we are to move forward to realize both our expectations and our possibilities. May the watchword be "Upward and forward."

Respectfully Submitted,
ROBERT J. FULLER.

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSE

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The following is the report of my work in Enfield from September, 1934 to January 19, 1935.

Number of pupils examined— 276

42 pupils 10% underweight
12 pupils showed defective vision, uncorrected
91 pupils had defective teeth
8 pupils had enlarged glands
15 pupils showed poor posture
27 pupils showed diseased or enlarged tonsils

Enfield received $98 75 from the Child Health Recovery Program.

The following corrective work has been done with the money left unexpended September 1, 1934. Three tonsilectomies were performed in Hanover Hospital. A fourth case refused this care

One boy had his eye examined at the Hitchcock Clinic. Glasses were not recommended.

Twenty one children were taken to Lebanon dentists who corrected all dental defects.

During the Summer vacation my predecessor took four eye cases to the Hitchcock Clinic. Only two of these cases were recommended for glasses. One ear case was examined and six children were given complete dental care. These cases were done with Child Health Recovery Program Money.

Milk is being supplied to thirty-two children in Enfield Village, Mont Calm and Enfield Center. Cod liver oil is being given once a day to all underprivlieged and needy children.

It is planned to find a way to have all children see a dentist at special rates where parents are without means to transport their own children to their dentists.

Sixty-seven children have been called upon in their own homes.

Classroom inspections are done frequently. The pupils have all been weighed and measured. It is planned to repeat this in February and June and have a report sent to the parents.

I wish to express appreciation for the cooperation of the teachers and parents.

Repectfully submitted,

EVA NELSON, R. N.

Finance Committee Budget

To the Citizens of the Town of Enfield:

You will note the proposed tax rates related to your action for itemized appropriations. The rates determined on the present valuation will be increased .55 cents or .67 cents per $100.00 or in other words $3.35 or $3.47 as compared with $2.80 for 1934. The estimates for State and County taxes cannot be accurate for your consideration, but the figures given are believed to be not overdrawn. The liability appropriation for $2500.00 will bear the most searching explanation and is here given as understood by your Finance Committee.

The total overdraft for work done on town highways amounted to $4,350.99. The action of snow removal only partially explains the fact, as too much of your appropriation was used for summer work, not properly accounted for to your Selectmen in time for their effective control of funds. The end of the fiscal year presented a deficit in this department, liquidated, however, at this time by using money previously allocated to the School District. The town is now in debt to the District for $2500.00 and the Selectmen ask for your favorable action on this item to meet the obligation. In regard to the responsibility of the Selectmen for this situation, we believe the Selectmen have been negligent in the conduct of their duties. Our analysis shows lack of cooperation and coordination between Selectmen and the Road Agent, the later being altogether too independent in his action, with direct effect upon your budget requirements for this coming year.

The prospect of higher tax rates is evident in view of proposed expenditures. The average increase in other New Hampshire towns are being variously estimated between .20 cents and .40 cents per $100.-00 with the burden of relief a major factor. This has not been emphasized in the budget here presented, though we feel Enfield cannot escape the problem. The action of the School District, with recommendations already before you are not fully anticipated. Your Finance Committee this year does not attempt to indicate possible reductions, knowing the futility of such action. We believe the annual meeting will function for the common interest, and merely offer this as an aid to those deliberations.

Respectfully submitted,

Finance Committee.
